Q&A & Comments:

I've been complaining about mattresses and other furniture dumped by tenants in our buildings parking lot. After complaining they finally "removed" a lot of the trash, but actually just moved it behind the building and spread it out all over the sidewalk. It's a horrible mess and more people from the neighborhood are now adding to it. The on-site manager who would have overseen this move is named Ronnie Rodas, and he lives in the building. I have a bunch of pictures and they've done this many times before. I'd like them to be held accountable if possible, I'm filing a lawsuit regarding much more slumlord behavior on their part right now.

Caller:

Q: Are the dumped materials located on public or private property?

This property is blighted and the owner needs to be cited. Please hold the owner responsible for maintaining the property. He already neglected the building so badly that it was red-tagged resulting in the eviction of over a hundred tenants. Why is no one holding this guy accountable??
